Case Studies

› Preparing for Trial Quickly and Cost-Effectively

A telecommunications company facing a securities class action lawsuit needed a cost-effective solution for reviewing several million documents. H5's exceptional accuracy eliminated the need for in-house first-pass review, saving the client 60 percent on total review costs and reducing review time by 50 percent, enabling redeployment of legal resources to strategic case preparation work.

› H5's Mobile Team Goes to China

A publicly-traded China-based company facing an SEC investigation required e-discovery work in Beijing. With no access to the outside world permitted, H5's mobile team created a closed network onsite with a standalone Relativity® network and performed intelligent data reduction, reducing 900k files down to the 22,847 that were potentially relevant—a 97% reduction—tagging those that were potentially privileged for advanced review, meeting all deadlines.

› Expert Culling Saves Fortune 500 Corporation $1 Million

A national law firm needed to conduct an internal investigation on behalf of its Fortune 500 client. With only a lean review team, a tight timeline, and over 1 million documents, the firm looked for ways to minimize data volume. Through expert culling based on advanced linguistic strategies, H5 reduced the collection by nearly half and identified and prioritized a subset of documents for further review, leading them to the critical documents and saving the client over $1 million.

› H5's Findings Expose Witness's Evasion

Counsel for a large corporate plaintiff in a $1 billion IP dispute had an upcoming deposition with a key adverse witness. With input from the client's legal team, H5 identified non-obvious but contradicting email communications and linked the witness to instant messaging IDs that unearthed additional communications that would have otherwise been missed. Bottom line: H5's findings enabled counsel to surprise the witness at deposition and confirm the witness's knowledge of key activities at issue in the matter.

› Client Saves $2 Million and 18 Weeks with High-Quality Review

A Fortune 500 conglomerate engaged H5 for a review for production. After fully vetting H5's first delivered set of responsive and privileged documents, the attorneys changed course. Because H5's accuracy was so high, instead of a document-by-document review, they decided to only review samples of subsequent deliveries. H5 effectively eliminated first- and second-pass review, cutting time to production by 18 weeks and saving the client over $2 million.

› Keyword Optimization Saves Major Bank Time and Money

Keyword search for a bank served with third-party subpoena returned 92% of the bank's 65,000 collected documents. In 2 weeks, H5 created, tested, and delivered refined keywords that reduced false positives by 50% and supported outside counsel's meet-and-confer negotiation by providing keyword analysis and substantiation reports.
